VALUE STRATEGY

ICICI Prudential PMS Value Strategy

Value Investing

- The most common definition for Value Investing is “Investing in under valued companies currently out of flavour with potential to realize their value in future”.
- The Strategy defines Value Investing as “Good business at reasonable / attractive price” and not mediocre business at a bargain price.

The core investment philosophy of value investing is based on the belief that

- Stocks may not continue to quote at values that are below their fair values over a longer horizon;
- At some point in time, the markets are likely to recognize the extent of under-valuation of these companies.

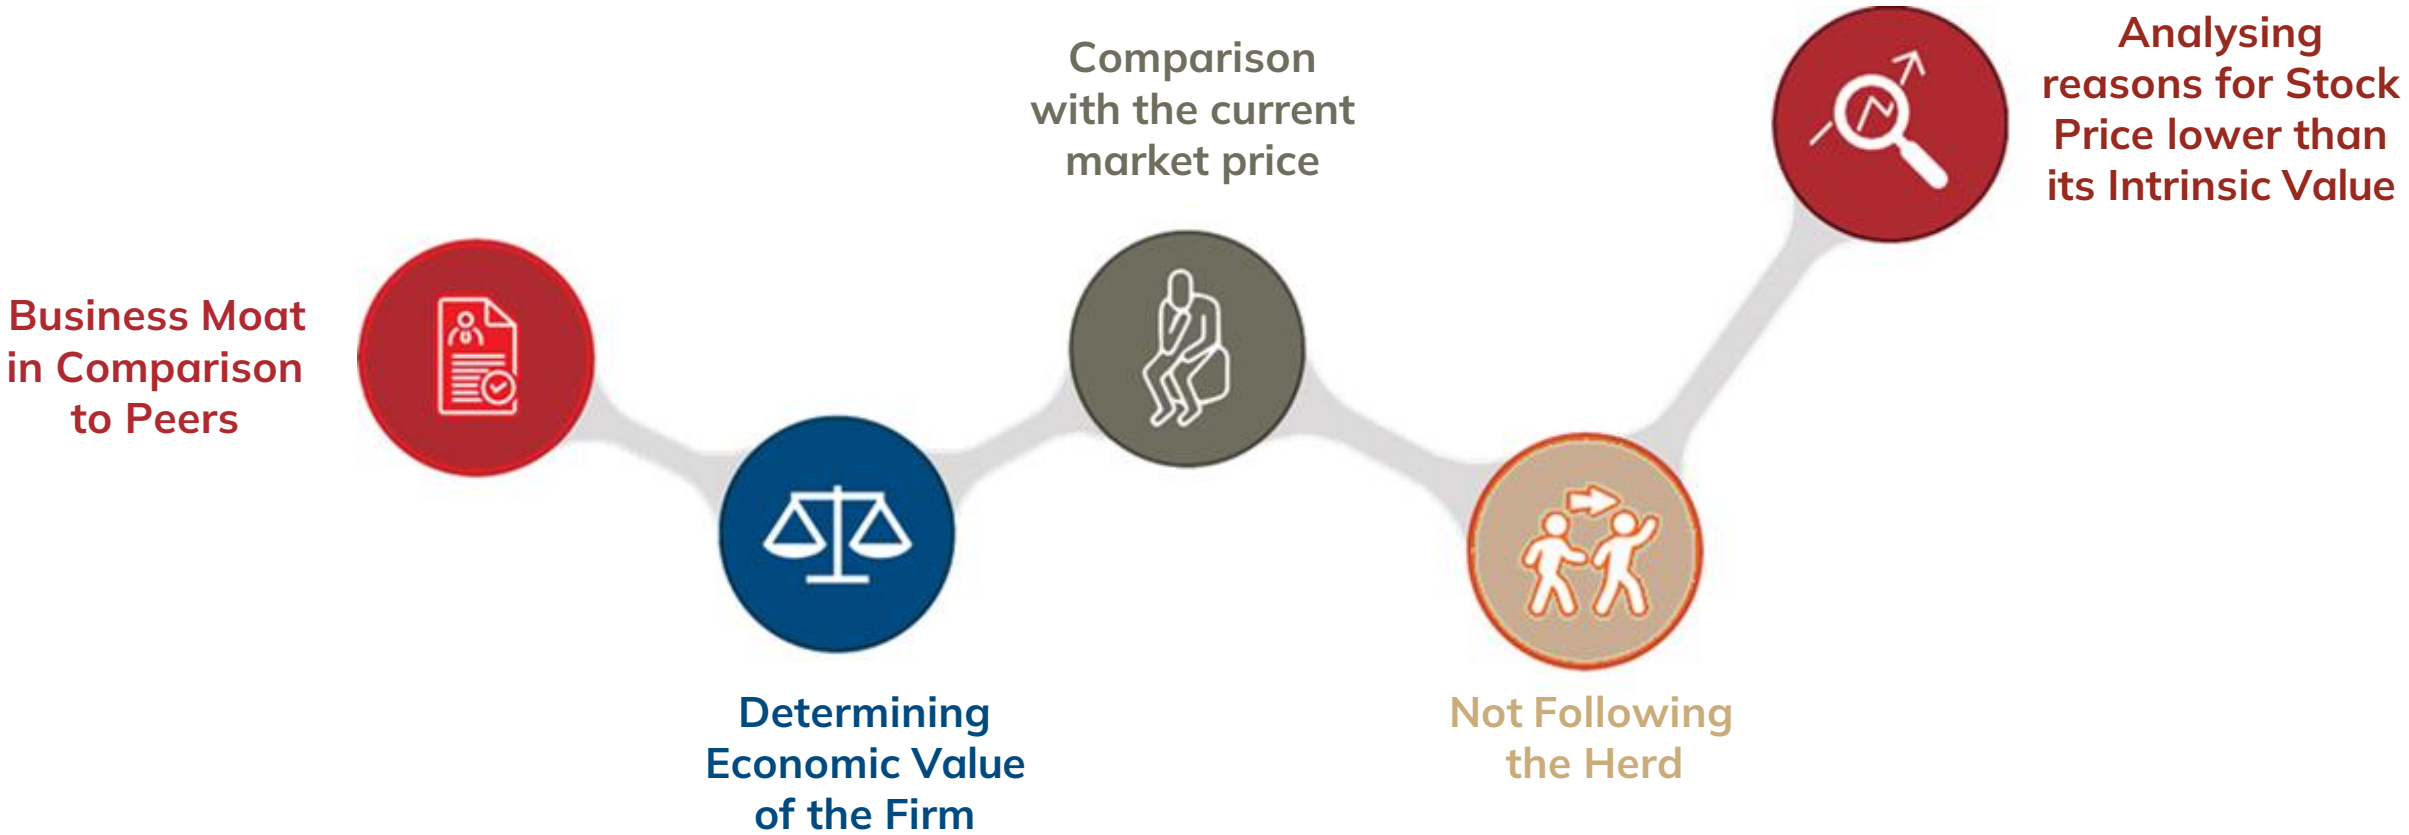

The same could lead to a rerating/appreciation in the company’s stock price.

We believe that Value Stocks are available at all point of time.

The investment strategy of the strategy herein involves risk and there can be no assurance that specific objectives will be met under differing market conditions or cycles. Strategy Specific Risks & Disclaimer

Risks associated with ICICI Prudential PMS Value Strategy investment approach:

- The Value Strategy follows a value style of investing, where securities are selected based on their relevancy to the value style of investing as defined in the Investment Objective above. This investor might be exposed to concentration risk due to stocks relevant to the investment style. This concentration may lead the portfolio returns to fluctuate heavily due to lack of diversification.
- The securities in the Value Strategy may be predominantly characterized by a stock selection where more emphasis is on stock valuation. There could be time periods when securities of this nature may underperform relative to other stocks in the market. This could impact performance.
- The Value Strategy invests across market capitalisation. The small/mid cap stocks give an opportunity to go beyond the usual large blue chip stocks and present possible higher capital appreciation, it is important to note that small/mid cap stocks can be riskier and more volatile on a relative basis. Therefore, the risk levels of investing in small/mid cap stocks are more than investing in large cap stocks. It may be noted that over a time these two categories have demonstrated different levels of volatility and investment returns. Among the reasons for the greater price volatility are the less certain growth prospects of small/mid cap stocks, the lower degree of liquidity in the markets for such securities, and the greater sensitivity of small/mid cap stocks to changing economic conditions. Small/mid cap stocks carry large amount of liquidity risk compared to the largecap stocks, as the ability to sell is limited by overall trading volume in the securities, which it invests.
- The Value Strategy retains the flexibility to hold from time to time relatively more concentrated investments in a few sectors as compared to plain diversified equity funds. This may make the Value Strategy vulnerable to factors that may affect these sectors in specific and may be subject to a greater level of market risk.
- In addition to the above, the Portfolio would be subject to the following risks, which are elaborated in the Risk Factors section of the Disclosure Document:
    - Risks related to equity and equity related instruments
    - Risks related to derivative investments
    - Risks related to investments in debt and debt related instruments

The above mentioned risk factors and general risk factors relating to the Portfolio are elaborated in the 'Risk Factors' section of the Disclosure Document. Investors should refer the DD before investing and the same is available on the website of Portfolio Manager – www.iciciprualternates.com
